Florida AHRMM Members,

Actors, writers, musicians, and professional athletes have agents. The agent acts and negotiates on behalf of their client representing their career, working conditions, and, of course, finances. The agent is looking out for their client’s best interest. Who is your agent? You! The only dedicated resource looking after your best interest is you. As we work through another covid spike it isn’t too early to look ahead. In fact, we need to look ahead now to better prepare for a future that will continue to present challenges known and unknown.

What lessons from the past year can we apply to the next five, professionally and personally? Covid has tested the global supply chain and the reliance on low-cost, JIT methods. What changes should we make as an industry and individual systems to better prepare for the next pandemic and other challenges? We also have to look at current relationships critically. What is the role of the GPO? What should it be now? What about distributors? Self-distribution? It is time to revise five-year plans with an eye towards the “New Normal” and invest where needed. Now more than ever, supply chain professionals are being looked upon to provide strategic and logistic expertise to health care. We need to deliver a vision of how we will serve the needs of our organization, team members and patients.

On a personal note, where do you want to be in five years? So many have questioned their career, location, and personal goals and have left the workforce or changed careers. What is your five year plan? While you take the time to vision the next five years for your employer, do the same for yourself. It is time to gather feedback from family, friends, and colleagues, then, it is time to call your agent!

Happy Holidays,

Clinically Integrated Supply Outcomes Model (CISOM): A Strategic Path Forward

The HIMSS Analytics Clinically Integrated Supply Outcomes Model (CISOM) is an eight stage (0-7) model that provides a strategic pathway to track processes and products used in care, by mobilizing data to create real world evidence of impact and outcomes for patient populations. This session examines the model and how it guides healthcare organizations to adopt and implement four key focus areas to achieve a clinically integrated data infrastructure in clinical settings:

- Automation
- Clinical Integration
- Predictive Data Analytics
- Governance and Leadership

Attendees will understand how the model helps measure progress along the dimensions and improves patient safety and quality along the journey to a clinically integrated supply chains.
